ENROLL RESERVES FOR DUTY IN WAR

Officer of Each Unit of Virginia Volunteers Will Be Appointed.

EXPERIENCED MEN WANTED

Use List of Available Persons to Secure War Footing Without Delay.

Complying with the recent order of the War Department, Adjutant-General W. W. Sale yesterday issued instructions looking to securing lists of men who will agree to serve in the Virginia volunteers in the event of war. Men with previous military experience are preferred, the idea being to get those who have been in the militia. A reserve list on this basis is one of the ideals aimed at by the War Department, and forms part of the reason for the expenditure of large sums in instructing a citizen soldiery.

To put into effect the new plan, each unit is to have an officer detailed to secure the lists and keep them up to date. This officer is to be selected by the commanding officer of each company, battery, band, battalion headquarters, regimental headquarters and other divisions. He is to be known as the "recruiting officer for war" for that organization. Should there be no other officer on duty with his command, the commander will himself act as the "recruiting officer for war."

Specifically, it will be the duty of the "recruiting officer for war" to be prepared at all times to quickly increase the strength of his organization to the maximum ordered at any time by the President of the United States. Blank forms will be provided by the Adjutant-General. It is desired to secure the names of as many able-bodied citizens residing in the vicinity, between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five years, as possible, who would be willing to enlist in the respective organizations in the event of war, and who have had previous military experience, or who have attended an organized military school.

After the organizations are recruited to a war footing, the efforts to secure the list of available men are not to be relaxed, but are to be continued until all desirable citizens are enrolled.

"While it is desirable," says the Adjutant-General, "to secure the names of men only who have had some previous military experience or training, yet if especially desirable men not falling within this class are available, or if it is impossible to fill up a list of trained or partly trained men from the residents of any particular
